VOLUME LXII.-NO. 52.

SACRAMENTO, MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 21, 1889.

WHOLE NO. 11,984.

WET WEATHER GOODS.

It is always supposed that large dealers in one line of Goods carry supplies as the season demands. Admitting they do, has the time passed when one merchant cannot offer better inducements than another? If so, advertising would soon be done away with. For all a man would have to do starting in business is to go to market, buy a large stock of Goods, select his location, put his goods in, hang up his sign, notify the public of this undertaking, and go ahead. And by this way of doing, I suppose many think that all has been done that could be, while others might think different.

Now, say a first-class farmer wants to buy land—say for stock-grazing purpose. Does he buy the first piece he looks at? or does he look around a little—not only for the quality of the land, but the price he is to pay, or the price asked by some who have it for sale? In many cases, we judge he would look around, and if he buys, we will venture to say that this farmer by so doing will tell you that some of the land that he looked at, which was no better than the land purchased, he was asked from 25 to 50 per cent, more for.

We claim that business right here in Sacramento is done in the same manner, and the goods of the same grade. It is easily explained. Some want more profit than others. Others often have to get more profit, as their expenses are so heavy. Again, one merchant is often more successful than another in buying his goods, he being a close buyer, or bought in larger quantities—sometimes through failures or job lots (meaning closing out the line).

To prove the above assertions we will illustrate it to all of our customers by offering them one of the largest lines of WET WEATHER GOODS AT LOWER PRICES THAN EVER BEFORE IN MEN'S, WOMEN'S, BOYS', GIRLS' AND CHILDREN'S RUBBER BOOTS AND OVERSHOES. All grades of RUBBER COATS, from the light Gossamer to the heavy teamster's or all-day-raining weather men; in short or long COATS; CAPS or HATS, with Capes or without Capes. Also, all styles of the DOUBLE OILSKIN CLOTHING, in COATS, PANTS and HATS.

IN WOMEN'S GOSSAMERS

We have a field of styles, as well for the little ones from four years of age, up to the largest Misses' sizes. Our prices are BEDROCK. Headquarters for Rubber Goods. We solicit a call. TAKING ACTION AT LAST.

The movement among representative men of mountain and foothill counties to put a stop to forest destruction is taking good form, and promises to amount to something at last. Congress is to be appealed to for the creation of forest reserves.
This is an excellent idea, but the State has a duty also in this matter that has thus far been practically neglected. True, we have a Forestry Commission, but its powers are so circumscribed that it can do little more than file reports and give advice, and, as a rule, the Legislatures do not read the one or take the other. We have the spectacle now of the Chief Forester of the State establishing his headquarters at Los Angeles, in which section there is the least of forest growth, the headquartermen being several hundred miles distant from the sections in which the grossest outrages are perpetrated by the denudation of the mountain and hill slopes. It appears that the people of Kern, Fresno, Mariposa, Merced and Tulare have fully awakened to the fact that if the depredations of the campmen, the sheepmen and the hunters continue, the time will speedily arrive when all the valley streams will run dry early in the summer, and when the rains come there will be such sudden floods as will work incalculable damage in the lowlands. The undergrowth being burned out, there will be no retention of snow, no gradual feeding of the streams, and disastrous freshets will result and ruinousRECORD-UNION began to preach them to the people of this State some seventeen years ago, and has not failed to repeat the warning year by year ever since. Other journals have been equally diligent in endeavoring to rouse public attention to the danger of permitting abnormal forest destruction to continue. In one or two years in all that time there were spasmodic manifestations of interest, and some steps were taken to ascertain just what danger portended in the premises. Finally a Forestry Commission was created, but its power was limited to examination of a narrow belt of country. Its reports, however, have justified all the warnings given. Two years later the powers of the Commission were broader, but they are still inadequate.
If we are to profit by the experience of others, we ought now to study the history of Germany, Austria, Switzerland and France, in the matter of forestry. If we are not worse than stupid we will not remain quiescent, but with the convening of the next Legislature will begin upon such a line of action as will save to the slopes of our hills and mountains what remains of their natural clothing, and which is so vitally essential to the agriculture of the valleys, and, indeed, to their occupancy.
For forest destruction with us may mean such climatic changes as will render some sections of the State, now populous, the most undesirable portions of the continent.
It is well that the people should be thoroughly educated on the importance of this subject, with a view to Legislatures being chosen by them that will reflect the common wisdom of experience, so far, at least, as the forestry question is concerned.

THE ERA OF PEACE.

The burst of fraternal enthusiasm at the Buffalo banquet to the delegates of the three Americas Congress is significant.
The toast that resulted in so exuberant a manifestation of friendliness between the Chilean and the Peruvian ministers, en-bodied the sentiment that the three Americas should be one, in peace, and live as kindly and helpful neighbors, and never as enemies. Thereupon the Peruvian minister sprang to his feet and extended his hand to the Chilean minister who had offered the toast in honor of the United States of America, and it was taken and shaken heartily while all the delegates arose and cheered. It may be said that this was merely a little post-prandial ebullition to which no political significance attaches; we think differently. These men are not likely to say or do anything in the presence of each other that they are not ready to abide by, and which does not reflect the sentiment of their people. Chile and Peru have been at war often enough to make them abhor the very word. Peru has always had the worst of the struggle, and Chile has at times been merciless towards her weaker neighbor. But there is every reason to believe that Peru is ready to accept the situation as it is, and abandon all thoughts of enmity towards or recovery from her late foe, and that Chile is willing to forego any further ambitions at the expense of Peru. That this sentiment is strengthened by the call for the Congress cannot be doubted. The statesmen of the several states of the Americas, chosen for the specific purpose, are now together for the special achievement of such understanding that peace and amity between all the American states shall be permanent, and the need for any one of them arming in distrust of another may disappear wholly.
The very highest office of statesmanship devolves upon these delegates, the conservation of peace, the promotion of mutual interests, and the removal to the fartherest of any causes for distrust. As we have once before said, they are to set an example to the world of peace-promoting and peace-loving nations. They are to prove that diplomatic wisdom and true statesmanship have reached the point of development where their highest honors are to be won in making war unnecessary.

NEW SCHEME.

Chicago and Boston Clubs Join the Brotherhood of Ballplayers.

CINCINNATI, October 20th.—A new club from Minneapolis, Minn., on good authority, that Spalding, of the Chicago League Club, and the managers of the Boston Club are backing the Brotherhood of Ballplayers.

This is, it is claimed, the outcome of a proposition made by Johnny Ward, who is one of the members of the club, not getting much financial backing as necessary to put their scheme into operation.

He proposes to Spalding that the monied members of the league advance money for forming the club at Boston, New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, and the Broth- erhood would sustain the clubs in the other four cities.

This means that a new brotherhood of ballplayers is to be formed in the league. It is also, practically, a disruption of the American Association.

A bitter war will be waged apparently between the rivals, but at the end of the playing season the Brotherhood and league will have several dollars to divide among themselves as the result of the scheme.

His withdrawal is a loss to the church.
